

Where We Serve

Focus Area

The program aims to reduce preventable causes of Maternal, Child, Neonatal, and Adolescent morbidity, and mortality. It focuses on:

- i) Strengthening the County's capacities at all levels to plan, monitor, and review the implementation of activities geared towards increasing access to and utilization of integrated FP/RMNCAH, Nutrition, and WASH information and services while improving the quality of care.
 - ii) Strengthened delivery of targeted FP/RMNCAH, Nutrition, and WASH at the community level, including effective referral to mobile and/or static facilities
 - iii) Increased care-seeking and health-promoting behavior.
 - iv) Improved gender norms and sociocultural practices.
 - v) Increased key practices of nutrition in targeted communities.
- The program works on three guiding prongs: Improving quality, expanding availability, and enhancing equity and inclusivity.

KEY OBJECTIVES

- To improve community-based health services for women of reproductive age, antenatal women, children and adolescents, and support Community Health Unit (CHU) functionality.
- To support evidence-based skilled care at the facilities and improve the quality of FP/RMNCAH, Nutrition and WASH services.
- Improve communication and referral systems between the community, tier two and three, and tertiary facilities.
- To strengthen healthcare information systems (HMIS)
- To support the county in policy formulation, planning, supervision, monitoring, and evaluation.

Vision for the Future

To witness a Trans Nzoia county where there are no preventable morbidity and mortality of women, newborns, or children and no preventable stillbirths, where every pregnancy is wanted, every birth celebrated and accounted for and where women, babies, children, and adolescents are free of HIV/AIDS, survive to thrive and reach their full social and economic potential.

Challenges

Despite improved coverage and uptake of various FP/RMNCAH, Nutrition, and WASH services, quality of care remains sub-optimal, resulting in a slower reduction of morbidities and mortalities. This has been attributed to health systems and governance gaps and limited resource allocation (human resources for health, health products and technologies, health financing) for health. Universal access to health information is limited due to persistent socio-cultural practices and beliefs hence poor seeking behavior. The County possesses pockets of areas with poor road networks, inadequate availability of 24-hour maternity services, and facility infrastructural challenges (space, laboratory) limiting access to health services.

The National policy and legal environment for Adolescent and Youth Sexual Reproductive health remains unclear, limiting access to and utilization of services.

Commitment to Equity

The program focuses on re-energizing and galvanizing Trans Nzoia County to accelerate reduction in Maternal, Newborn, Child, and Adolescent mortality. The program's intervention package follows the Life Cycle Approach, Continuum of Care, and Family-Centered Approach based on the following objectives that align with AMPATH Principles:

- To identify the health needs and problems of each family/community/facility
- To ensure the family/community/facility understands and accepts these needs and problems.
- To plan and provide health services with the active participation of the family/community/facility members.
- To help families/communities/facilities develop abilities to deal with their health needs and health problems independently and based on context.
- To contribute to the family's/community/facility's performance of developmental functions and tasks.
- To help families/communities/facilities use promotive, preventive, therapeutic, and rehabilitative health and allied community services.
- To educate, counsel, and guide family/community/facility members to cultivate good personal health habits, practice safe cultural practices, and maintain a wholesome physical, psychosocial, and enabling environment.
